Low Profile Broadcast Arm with Riser

Owner's Manual

Thank you for choosing Auray.

Auray's Low Profile Broadcast Arm with Riser is designed for the studio and home, and is ideal for broadcasts, podcasts, gaming, and voiceovers.

This broadcast arm's low profile offers an unobstructed view of your computer monitors while you use your microphone. The sturdy mic arm reaches horizontally from 17 to 29 inches and vertically from 21.5 to 27.5 inches, and rotates 360°, so you can position the microphone right in front of the talent, no matter the angle. Tension adjustment points allow you to dial in the rotation and weight resistance, making it easy to get the right feel with no handling noise when you need to quickly reposition the mic. Built-in cable management discreetly keeps the mic cable out of view and off the table.

The BA-LPR3 features a heavy-duty combo mount that comprises a sturdy C-clamp and steel desktop mount. The C-clamp is capable of fastening onto desktops up to 2.5 inches thick. The desktop mount detaches from the C-clamp and provides a semipermanent option that secures directly to the tabletop with the included mounting screws.
